Russia is always ready to host negotiations on the Azerbaijani-Armenian settlement process and hopes that Baku and Yerevan take into account the relevance of the corresponding proposal, Deputy Foreign Minister of the Russian Federation Mikhail Galuzin has said, Tass reports.

Our proposals for holding negotiations on a peaceful settlement between Armenia and Azerbaijan in Moscow are open to our partners for Armenia and Azerbaijan," said the Russian Deputy Foreign Minister, expressing hope that Yerevan and Baku remember and understand it.

When asked whether the meeting of the foreign ministers of the three countries in Moscow is currently being arranged through diplomatic channels, Galuzin affirmed that they are always ready for such work.
