Daily Sabah (7 February 2024)

Kosova hopes to normalize relations with Serbia this year, Prime Minister Albin Kurti said Wednesday.

"Normalization of relations with Serbia I wish for this year, for 2024, and in the next years and decades I want to come out victorious on issues like social inequality, climate change and security threats," Kurti told AFP.

Kurti's comments came amid tensions between the two countries over the use of the Serbian dinar, which according to the prime minister, is not officially "banned" in Kosovo.
