The diplomatic relations between Armenia and Hungary are now fully restored after President Vahagn Khachaturyans official visit to Hungary on February 5-7, Deputy Foreign Minister Paruyr Hovhannisyan has said.

We didnt have any high-level visits to Hungary for more than eleven years, and with this visit, we can say that the Armenian-Hungarian diplomatic relations are fully restored, Hovhannisyan told Armenpress, describing the trip as comprehensive.

Id like to mention the importance which we attach to this in terms of partnership with the EU. Hungary will assume the EU presidency in July, and from this perspective Hungarys stance is very important in terms of deepening and enhancing our partnership with the EU. Besides, a number of important sectoral cooperation directions were discussed, Hovhannisyan said, pointing out the talks involving Healthcare Minister Anahit Avanesyan, Deputy Minister of Education, Science, Culture and Sport Artur Martirosyan with their counterparts, as well as discussions with lawmakers.
