Kabar (15 August 2024)

The Government of Tajikistan and the Asian Development Bank have signed two previously approved grants totaling $71 million, which are aimed at creating a climate-resilient business environment, supporting small and medium-sized enterprises and promoting renewable energy generation, ASIA-Plus reported.

The agreements were signed in Dushanbe on August 12 by Tajik Finance Minister Fayziddin Kahhorzoda and ADB Permanent Representative to the Republic Shanni Campbell.

"The $50 million climate-resilient Business Environment Improvement Program is aimed at transforming the business environment in Tajikistan, including through digitalization, reforms to increase exports, improved infrastructure management, financial transparency and support for climate-resilient SMEs," the Bank's representative office in the republic said in a press release.
