Armenias opposition has held a hearing in defence of the inclusion of the Declaration of Independence in Armenias constitution, with opposition figures insulting supporters and members of the ruling party.

The opposition Armenia Alliance faction held the hearing on Thursday to discuss the draft statement regarding the inviolable relevance of Armenia's Declaration of Independence.

The hearing took place against the backdrop of continued statements from Azerbaijan that the inclusion of the declaration in the Armenian constitution equates to territorial claims. Azerbaijan has called these claims the major obstacle in concluding a peace treaty.
