Azerbaijan and Armenia will return to discussing the text of the peace treaty next month, Hikmat Hajiyev, assistant to the Azerbaijani president, told TASS.

"Currently, the main topic of Azerbaijan's agenda is COP29 [] the end of November," Hajiyev said on the sidelines of the 29th Conference of the Parties to the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change (COP29) in Baku, the capital of Azerbaijan.

"Of course, starting from December, a new process will begin between Armenia and Azerbaijan regarding the discussion and continuation of negotiations on the text of the peace treaty," he added.
