Kabar (25 November 2024)

Uzbekistan has significantly increased its natural gas exports to China while also expanding its gas imports from neighboring Turkmenistan and Russia, KunUz reported.

Data from the Chinese General Administration of Customs reveals that Uzbekistan exported natural gas worth $587.9 million to China in the first ten months of 2024, marking a 25% year-on-year increase.

However, monthly export volumes showed a slight decline in October, dropping to $88.93 million from a record $97.4 million in September. Despite the decrease, October exports were 2.09 times higher than the same period in 2023.
