OC Media (4 December 2024)

Armenia has said that no opportunity currently exists to evacuate around 10,000 Armenians in war-torn Syria.

The statement was issued by Armenias Embassy in Damascus, which said that the Foreign Ministry was closely following the situation and that all options would be considered in case evacuation became possible.

On the same day, the Armenian High Commissioner for Diaspora Affairs, Zareh Sinanyan, told Armenpress that up to 10,000 Syrian reside in areas controlled by rebel groups following last weeks surprise attack that resulted in their capture of Aleppo and other areas formerly under regime control.
