Asbarez (23 December 2024)

Armenia announced that it officially recognized passports issued in Kosovo, including diplomatic ones, but maintained that Yerevan continues to not recognize that countrys independence.

This is a significant step toward strengthening ties and relations between the citizens and institutions of both countries, said Kosovos deputy foreign minister in a post on X.

Armenias foreign ministry spokesperson Ani Badalyan confirmed Yerevans decision to recognize passports issued by Kosovo and reaffirmed that Armenia does not recognize the countrys independence.
