I need to write about David Pressman, the outgoing US ambassador to Hungary. This is an unpleasant job. Pressman is man with a provincial California attitude, described by one Hungarian politician as unsuccessful and inglorious. Those of us who live in Budapest are glad he is going.

Hungary is an ally, yet Pressman, a Biden appointee who is red-hot on all things left-wing and woke, ignores that. He is a Democrat lawyer who thinks conservative Hungary should be more like him.

Hungary, most of it, thinks differently.
