The technology that was intended to free us has become the tool of our own oppression.

Spanish Prime Minister Pedro Sánchez said on Wednesday that tech billionaires want to use social media to overthrow democracy — adding hell push EU leaders to take action.

The technology that was intended to free us has become the tool of our own oppression, he said during a speech at the World Economic Forum in Davos, Switzerland. The social media that was supposed to bring unity, clarity and democracy have instead given us division, vice and a reactionary agenda.
