The Russian Foreign Ministry insisted on Friday that Russia and Iran have similar positions on the thorny issue of transport links between Armenia and Azerbaijan.

The ministry spokeswoman, Maria Zakharova, reacted to a senior Iranian diplomats assertion that only Iran supports Armenia in opposing a land corridor that would connect Azerbaijan to its Nakhichevan exclave through a key Armenian region.

We have no disagreements with Armenia on the so-called Zangezur corridor, Irans ambassador in Yerevan, Mehdi Sobhani, said last week.
