Romanian President-elect Nicusor Dan has returned a favor to political allies in Poland, addressing a mass rally in Warsaw in support of pro-EU presidential candidate Rafal Trzaskowski on May 25.

The visit highlights how politics in Poland and Romania have become intertwined amid wider geopolitical concerns.

Speaking to crowds waving Polish and European Union flags in bright spring sunshine, Dan said he brought a pro-EU message, a message for the rule of law, for Poland and Romania to be aligned within the European Union and to push for the same thing, for security in the eastern area.
