As Armenia navigates a new phase in its domestic and foreign policy, Prime Minister Nikol Pashinyan's recent visit to Türkiye and the rising tensions with the Armenian Church have sparked intense debates. In this interview with News.Az, renowned Armenian journalist Natali Aleksanyan shares her insights on the current political atmosphere in Yerevan, the controversial arrest of businessman Samvel Karapetyan, and the role of the Karabakh resettlers in internal Armenian developments.

- How do you assess Armenian Prime Minister Nikol Pashinyan's visit to Türkiye?
