President Kassym-Jomart Tokayevs official visit to Türkiye underscored the strong strategic partnership and deep mutual trust between the two countries. A closer look at the agreements reached by the leaders of the two Turkic states is provided in this report by a Kazinform News Agency correspondent.

The Republic of Türkiye has long been a reliable partner for Kazakhstan across trade, historical ties, and geopolitical cooperation. This strong relationship is also reflected in the personal rapport between the leaders of the two nations.

Since 2019, President Tokayev has held 14 bilateral meetings with Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdoğan. Their most recent encounter took place this year in Budapest during the informal summit of the Organization of Turkic States.
