The EPP cannot turn a blind eye to what happens in Serbia, EPP leader Manfred Weber told Euronews, as tensions grow in the party headquarters because of the controversial policies of Aleksandar Vučić.

The European People's Party (EPP) has decided to "initiate a scrutiny process" about associate membership of Aleksandar Vučić's Serbian Progressive Party (SNS), EPP President Manfred Weber announced on Tuesday.

Mass demonstrations began in November, after a concrete canopy collapsed at the freshly renovated Novi Sad train station, killing 16 people.
