Visiting Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi attended the 12th Joint Meeting of the China-Italy Government Committee in Rome on Wednesday, during which he called for enhanced cooperation between the two countries.

Wang, also a member of the Political Bureau of the Communist Party of China Central Committee, said that since last year, Italian President Sergio Mattarella, Senate President Ignazio La Russa and Prime Minister Giorgia Meloni have paid visits to China, respectively, and the two sides issued an action plan to strengthen their comprehensive strategic partnership.

China and Italy have actively implemented the important consensus reached by the leaders of the two countries. Taking the 55th anniversary of the establishment of diplomatic relations between China and Italy this year as an opportunity, they have steadily expanded practical cooperation in various fields, with numerous highlights, Wang said in the joint meeting.
