According to Nikkei Asia, Japans Sojitz Corporation is investing $1 billion in the construction of a new international airport in Tashkent, UzA reports.

Vision Invest of Saudi Arabia will implement the project based on a public-private partnership. The new airport is scheduled to be commissioned in 2028. The airport will be able to accommodate up to 20 million passengers annually and operate more than 40 flights per hour. It is expected to be the largest airport in Central Asia.

Sojitz Corporation previously participated in airport construction projects in the Japanese city of Kumamoto, on the islands of Okinawa and Palau.
