Armenias Public Services Regulatory Commission (PSRC) has revoked the electricity distribution license of the Electric Networks of Armenia (ENA).

Today, the PSRC resumed the discussion [REDACTED] on November 13 [REDACTED] revoking ENAs distribution license.

ENAs temporary manager, Romanos Petrosyan, had sent letters to the PSRC informing it that ENAs automated metering system malfunctioned in January 2025, and that since 2018 data from the automated metering systems had been deleted. This was considered grounds for revoking the companys license.
