Prime Minister Mette Frederiksen of Denmark expressed outrage on Sunday at recent statements emerging from the United States targeting Greenland for American annexation □ including from President Donald Trump himself.

It makes absolutely no sense to talk about the need for the United States to take over Greenland, Frederiksen wrote in a statement. The United States has no right to annex one of the three countries in the Danish Realm.

U.S. publication the Atlantic had posted an interview with Trump earlier on Jan. 4 in which the American leader said: We do need Greenland, absolutely. We need it for defense, and described the Danish autonomous territory as surrounded by Russian and Chinese ships.
