Representatives of Armenia and Azerbaijan have studied the condition of the Yeraskh [REDACTED] railway section with a view to reopening it, Prime Minister Nikol Pashinyan said during the governments question-and-answer session, referring to criticism and concerns surrounding the TRIPP Development Company.

According to the Prime Minister, the government attaches importance to such comments and views them as a tool for review.

That is why the document of August 8 was signed, and on January 14 a framework document was published on behalf of the two governments, in which the sovereignty and territorial integrity of the Republic of Armenia are repeatedly emphasized, the Prime Minister noted.
