Nikol Pashinyan urges businesses to utilize railway export corridors through Azerbaijani territory following high-level assurances.

Armenian Prime Minister Nikol Pashinyan announced Wednesday that Azerbaijan has permitted the export of Armenian goods through its territory, citing high-level assurances on the opening of railway transit routes.

"Our businesses should record that the railway export route through Azerbaijan is open," Pashinyan told lawmakers in parliament, adding that the government received guarantees at the highest level to facilitate the movement.
