When the going gets tough, EU leaders pull up the drawbridge and lock themselves away behind fortified walls.

From Russias invasion of Ukraine to Brexit to 9/11, major moments that require the EU to get its act together tend to get the same response: Head to a castle!

This week is no exception. As debate about the EUs future in an uncertain world intensifies, leaders will on Thursday gather at Alden Biesen in Flanders □ a charming backdrop for some very serious conversations.
