China on Monday called for a ceasefire, expressing deep concern over the regional spillover of US and Israeli airstrikes on Iran, which then retaliated by targeting US assets in the Gulf region.

The US and Israel carried out military strikes against Iran without authorization from the UN Security Council, which violates the international law, Foreign Ministry spokeswoman Mao Ning told reporters in Beijing.

China is deeply concerned about the spillover of the conflict affecting neighboring countries. China believes that the sovereignty, security and territorial integrity of Gulf countries should also be fully respected, said Mao.
