The European Commission has published its first progress report on Armenia's implementation of the Visa Liberalisation Action Plan (VLAP), highlighting the Armenian government's strong political commitment to advancing reforms required for future visa-free travel with the European Union.

According to Armenia's Ministry of Internal Affairs, the report was officially handed over to Armenia on May 5, 2026.

The Armenia-EU visa liberalisation dialogue officially began in September 2024, while the Action Plan was delivered to Armenia in November 2025. The roadmap includes 74 benchmarks to be implemented in two stages: establishing the necessary legislative and policy framework, followed by ensuring their practical implementation and enforcement.
