China and Brazil pledged to deepen practical cooperation and strengthen strategic coordination as their top diplomats met in Beijing, agreeing to work together to address external challenges and promote cooperation among developing countries.

The commitment came during talks between Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi and his Brazilian counterpart Mauro Vieira as the two sides held the fifth China-Brazil Foreign Ministerial-Level Comprehensive Strategic Dialogue, according to a statement issued by the Chinese government.

Wang said China and Brazil, as major developing countries and important emerging economies, should expand practical cooperation, enhance strategic mutual trust and strengthen coordination in multilateral forums.
