France wants to get China to agree on the need to address global trade imbalances.

French President Emmanuel Macron is set to host a video call between the Group of Seven countries and China to address global trade imbalances, according to four officials from three G7 countries familiar with preparations for the meeting.

Two of the four officials, all of whom were granted anonymity to discuss sensitive diplomatic planning, said the call would take place Thursday ahead of next weeks G7 leaders summit in the lakeside resort of Evian-les-Bains.
