Azerbaijan's Minister of Justice Farid Ahmadov has held talks with a delegation headed by Aqeel Malik, Pakistan's Minister of State for Law and Justice, to discuss strengthening bilateral cooperation in the legal and judicial fields, AzerNEWS reports.

According to Azerbaijan's Ministry of Justice, the meeting highlighted that relations between Azerbaijan and Pakistan have developed into a strategic partnership, with regular high-level contacts and reciprocal visits contributing to the steady expansion of bilateral ties.

The officials reviewed progress made under the existing Memorandum of Cooperation and bilateral cooperation program, noting that several joint initiatives have already been implemented to deepen collaboration between the justice institutions of both countries.
