Uzbek President Shavkat Mirziyoyev, who is on a visit to South Korea, held talks with South Korean President Lee Jae Myung in both a restricted format and in the presence of official delegations.

The talks focused on further developing and deepening the special strategic partnership between Uzbekistan and South Korea, according to the Uzbek presidents office.

The two sides highlighted growing trade and investment ties. More than 700 joint ventures with South Korean capital are currently operating in Uzbekistan.
