The Cyprus problem can only be solved by a new approach and a new model based on the political realities on the island, the president of the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus (TRNC) has said.

Lets be creative. Lets find a solution so that we can all benefit, and we can provide to the security and stability of the Eastern Mediterranean, Ersin Tatar told Anadolu during his recent visit to Germany.

If we can achieve this, Cyprus can become a prosperous island, probably more prosperous than Dubai, he stressed.
