The Sofia Globe (25 July 2024)

The European Commission said on July 25 that it has decided to refer Bulgaria to the EU Court of Justice (ECJ) in three ongoing infringement proceedings as part of its latest infringements package.

In the first case, the Commission said that Bulgaria failed to correctly transpose EU rules on the right to information in criminal proceedings, set out in Directive 2012/13/EU, which had a transposition deadline of June 2014.
