Daily Sabah (21 October 2025)

Türkiye's state-owned defense manufacturer MKE has signed an agreement to build a turnkey ammunition production facility in Kosovo, a report said on Tuesday, the latest step showcasing advancing defense links between Ankara and Pristina.

The announcement follows a delivery of thousands of kamikaze drones to the Balkan nation by Turkish giant Baykar earlier this month.

In late November, Prime Minister Albin Kurti said Kosovo planned to build its first ammunition factory and drone design lab to prop up the country's defense industry.
