Earlier this month, Recep Tayyip Erdogan said Türkiye will take 'some symbolic steps' starting early 2026 as part of ongoing normalization processes with Armenia

Armenian Prime Minister Nikol Pashinyan has welcomed Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogans remarks on advancing the normalization process between Ankara and Yerevan, state media reported on Thursday.

Within the framework of our bilateral dialogue, the time has come for symbolic [ ] even non-symbolic, broader, and more concrete [ ] to take place, and I hope that they will happen, Pashinyan said during a press briefing, according to state news agency Armenpress.
